

New Report!

Insights On Single-use Nonwoven Surgical Drapes and Gowns in Europe

What is the market size for single-use nonwoven surgical gowns and drapes? What are the important market drivers? Who are the key supply chain participants? What regulations will most impact success? What is the outlook for surgical care? What user needs are currently being met or not?

This new report addresses these questions and more for six leading European markets: France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Sweden and the United Kingdom.

Published in three separate comprehensive parts, this report allows you the flexibility to purchase one part or all three. A free one hour telephone consultation is included with purchase if deemed of interest.

What's Inside:

Part 1

- Market drivers in six leading European countries
- Medical aspects and hospital acquired infections
- Demographics and health economics
- EU country facts
- In-hospital and ambulatory surgeries
- Market for single-use drapes and gowns

Part 2

- Case studies
- About surgical drapes and gowns
- Materials, technologies, quality, technical benefits
- Supply chain: Structure and industry participants
- Demand and estimated market size

Part 3

- Regulatory aspects
- Issues on the operating theatre
- Impact on specific treatments
- Professionals, experts and organizations
- Outlook in surgical care

For pricing and to order, contact INDA at (919) 233-1210 or email hlee@inda.org.